Elevate your consumers’ beauty rituals

At Silgan Dispensing, we understand that beauty preferences and expectations differ from person to person across the world. That’s why we dedicate ourselves to creating highly customizable fragrance packaging that lets brands elevate the dispensing experience for their customers in myriad ways.

Backed by the most advanced R&D, engineering and design expertise and in-depth consumer research, we work closely with brand owners to develop high-performance dispensing solutions that allow them to delight and inspire global consumers.

Dip Tubes
Our revolutionary, patented NoC® invisible dip tube conceals the tube, allowing your packaging to shine on its own. We also offer a variety of other dip tubes, including customized color-coordinated options to match the personality of your product.

Spray Cap Extensions
Greater creative freedom is yours with customized extensions for spray caps and actuators to pair with our pumps. Our 100% automatic assembly capability guarantees high-quality spray as well as economical development and swift speed to market.

Customized Spray
Based on consumer insights that demonstrate the importance of the spray to the fragrance experience, our Emotions of Spray Collection allows you to customize the spray in countless ways.

Personalized Metal Components
Increase your shelf appeal with special anodized and lacquered colors, or decorative techniques like silk screening, laser etching, engraving and embossing. Our high-quality metal components can be customized to enhance brand cues.

Safety Clips
Enhance product performance with custom safety clips that can be combined with most of our products and are available in almost any color. Together, we can collaborate on the right look and fit for your packaging design.

Customize the Experience with Silgan Dispensing
We understand that the look, feel and performance of your product can deepen connections to your brand. Allow us to work with you on a custom dispensing solution that elevates the experience for you and your customers.
